

Jane's First Omagh Announcements...

Welcome to the Gathering Place. Our service will begin this morning at 11.00am and will be based on the Armour of God Ephesians 6:10 -18.

Thanks to Isobel for leading us in the "In this Moment" PCI prayer and to Daryl for leading us in the hymn 'O Church Arise'. Videos of the various parts of the service will appear from 11.00am onwards.

These Three Remain

PCI have provided some resources for members and congregations on their "these three remain" website page.

There you will find a link to TIDES a daily bible reflection written by a different member of the Presbyterian church each week, the LET'S PRAY email to assist you in praying for the work of the church both local and global, a list of congregational WEBSITES plus a BLOG and a PODCAST.

So don't worry there are lots of resources available to stimulate us in faith during this period of lockdown.

Helping Others

With so many faith based online resources at our fingertips we could easily spend much of the week feeding our souls but do remember that we receive from God so that we can give to others. So don't give up the habit of praying for others, do something each day to show Christ's love to others, whether that's phoning someone who lives on their own, sending a card to friend or relative in a nursing home, putting a donation of food into a local food bank or giving to a charity which helps people in other parts of this world.

Pastoral Care

Whilst I, like you, am in lockdown for another 3 weeks please phone me if you have any pastoral issues or concerns at 028 8224 2239 or 077 8920 8819 or email jane.nelson5@btinternet.com.

Please also let me know if you, or a family member, go into hospital as it may be possible for me to link with you/them via telephone or facetime with hospital staff's permission.
